

North Ogden City's Community Emergency Response Team (C.E.R.T.) consists of members of the community who have undergone extensive training in emergency response. Each of these citizens may be called upon to utilize their special talents and interests to aid in the response and recovery during an emergency or other event.

The North Ogden C.E.R.T. volunteers and other residents with an interest in emergency preparedness meet monthly to coordinate activities and plan for events and training. Anyone interested in emergency preparedness and response is invited to take part in these meetings, regardless of past C.E.R.T. experience.

For more information about the C.E.R.T. program, please contact Special Functions Supervisor Paul Rhoades, 801-782-7219.
